

A 24-hour solar energy-generating power supply has been installed in Forto-Sawa Health Center, thus enabling it to render efficient service, stated Mr. Girmai Hadgu, head of the center.

Forto-Sawa, 22 July 2010 - A 24-hour solar energy-generating power supply has been installed in Forto-Sawa Health Center, thus enabling it to render efficient service, stated Mr. Girmai Hadgu, head of the center.

He explained that previously the center used to provide limited service due to the absence of reliable power supply. At present, however, such problems have been overcome and that it is rendering efficient service thanks to the installation of the device.

Mr. Bereket Yohannes, Assistant nurse in the Center, said on his part that previously it was difficult to extend care to patients during night hours, especially mothers during delivery.

The local inhabitants expressed satisfaction with the newly installed 24-hour electricity service which is playing major role in upgrading service at the health center.
