

In a seminar he conducted to the participants of the 4th ERI-Youth Festival, Mr. Abdall Jabir, Head of Organizational Affairs at the PFDJ, said that national reconstruction and safeguarding of sovereignty is the main responsibility of the youth.

Asmara, 22 July 2010 – In a seminar he conducted to the participants of the 4th ERI-Youth Festival, Mr. Abdall Jabir, Head of Organizational Affairs at the PFDJ, said that national reconstruction and safeguarding of sovereignty is the main responsibility of the youth.

Mr. Abdall underscored that the Eritrean Revolution triumphed with the active participation of youths, and the present challenge facing the youth is that of safeguarding and building the nation. He commended the dedication of the youth inside the country and abroad to promote national development through meeting all challenges.

Pointing out that vision, strong organization and correct political path are vital assets for youths to achieve success in their endeavors, the PFDJ official said that Eritrean youths are equipped with these qualities, and that they would cope with challenges.

Noting that the experience of various countries in building vibrant nations, he explained that the existing strong national unity in Eritrea is a guarantee for a promising future. In this regard, Mr. Abdall called on the youth to redouble their efforts towards achieving still more gratifying outcome.