

Eritrean community members in Cincinnati, USA, voiced readiness to enhance support for families of fallen heroes. They made the pledge at a meeting in which it was stated that more members of the community have taken the initiative to extend support for families of martyrs.

Asmara, 29 November 2012 – Eritrean community members in Cincinnati, USA, voiced readiness to enhance support for families of fallen heroes. They made the pledge at a meeting in which it was stated that more members of the community have taken the initiative to extend support for families of martyrs.

Members of the community who took such initiative have been working as an Association since 2008, and that they are working hard to bequeath the noble culture of patronizing families of fallen heroes to the young generation, according to reports.

The Eritrean community members further lauded the government's commitment in this regard, and called on nationals to back up its endeavors.

Meanwhile, NUEW members in Wuppertal city, Germany, expressed readiness to enhance the support they have been extending to members of the Eritrean National War-disabled Veterans Association (ENWVA).